OUR HISTORY

Our story began in 2008 when we decided to breathe new life into local agriculture by putting our attention and care on our land. Our project began in collaboration with the Pantaleo Agriculture Foundation. Our choice stems from a vision and a philosophy that binds us to our land and our estate.

Here we blend the scent and the thousand colors of nature that changes during the seasons and the genuine taste of freshly harvested vegetables. We started with just 20 hectares that, over the years, have grown to 130 and border the Dune Costiere Regional Natural Park from Torre Canne to Torre San Leonardo.

Right from the start, we aimed to persevere with local products, such as the "regina tomato" of Torre Canne, a prized variety that we saved from extinction and included in the Slow Food Presidia. To preserve the millennial value attached to our land, we practice crop rotation. Thanks to these actions, in just three years we have achieved organic certification.

In addition to cultivation, we flank the process of processing and packaging, pursuing a single goal, that of encouraging the return of the oldest flavors. Special attention is paid to the tomato, king of our Apulian tables. Here Sundays have the red color of our grandmothers' ragout, while children play waiting for lunchtime with orecchiette pasta with sauce and fresh basil. Luisa Pantaleo products are synonymous with tradition and authenticity.

OUR CERTIFICATIONS

REGIONAL NATURAL PARK COASTAL DUNES

The Coastal Dunes Park, based on the characteristics of our company, has allowed us to display its logo on our products.

EDUCATIONAL FARMS

Pantaleo Agricoltura has obtained recognition as an Educational Farm in Brindisi thanks to our Graziana Cofano's participation in the regional call for applications for the "Educational Farm Operators" course and the many changes made to our premises to make it suitable for welcoming groups of visitors, to whom we are happy to show our agricultural practices and tell the origins of our farm and those of our products.

EUROPEAN ORGANIC CERTIFICATION

Organic Certification is confirmed by the European organic logo that ensures:

- At least 95% of ingredients from organic farming.
- The indication of the origin of raw materials.
- The absence of pesticide residues or chemical elements.
- The absence of GMOs.

BIOAGRICERT is among the world's best-known and most respected bodies for certifying of organic farming and performs more than 15,000 inspections of about 12,000 farms each year. Through the controls performed at our facility, it certifies the quality and traceability of our product, as well as compliance with the rules of operating in Organic.
